

MUVR Freight Exchange (Online Platform):

MUVR is a technology company providing an online freight bidding platform enabled by a strong interplay of technology, data and operation excellence and making logistics cost effective, faster, increase productivity and safe.

Introducing technology to the “non-tech” logistic sector will enable transparency and trust to a previously opaque market where transactions were clouded and driven by personal relationships. Every transaction in the freight platform is online. Data sciences play a key role in ensuring the optimization of the company’s operations from the loading of the truck until the truck unloads. Our moto to extended benefits to customers & service partners.
